“We are just people who want to see amazing places, feel safe, and we want to make some new friends.”

WHO WE ARE

Frontier Travel Camp was established in 1998 as a summer camp alternative for individuals with special needs. We believe group travel is an ideal way to experience independence, improve social skills, and to increase self-esteem in a secure and exciting environment.

Frontier travelers are high-functioning individuals 16 years old and above. They have varying disabilities, developmental disabilities, and/or other challenges requiring more supervision and guidance than the mainstream camper. They have a range of diagnoses from Attention Deficit Disorder (ADD) to high functioning spectrum disorders like Autism and Asperger's Syndrome. Some have mild developmental disabilities or are just very socially uncomfortable. Whatever their diagnosis, they all have the basic desire to experience some excitement in life, to make new friends, and to see the world.

Over the years, we have rafted some of the best rivers in the west, hiked some of the most scenic mountain ranges, and explored the world's most interesting cities and national parks. Frontier Travel Camp will continue to provide these enriching tours well into the future. These incomparable experiences endow our travelers with more than just priceless memories. They return home empowered by their newfound independence, confident in their ability to make new friends, and proud of their efforts to challenge themselves and try new things.

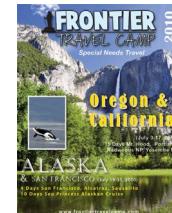

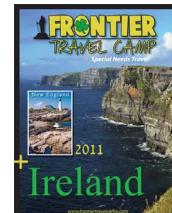

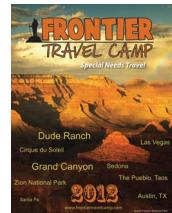

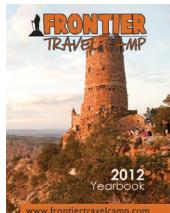

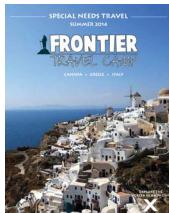

This all contributes to making Frontier Travel Camp truly special. With a bond shared by all the staff, campers, and their families, our travel camp is an ever-growing family. Travelers feel respected and cared-for as they form friendships that they can maintain throughout their lives. Many have come to us without a single friend at home. Now, they have their buddies with whom they can travel the world with.

Frontier Travel Camp continues its commitment to its clients with special needs by constantly presenting ever changing stimuli, while promoting independence, individuality and socialization. We strive to instill positive core values in all of our travelers and staff in an effort of making our individuals and overall program the best it can be.

Frontier facilitates the warm and trusting environment our travelers need in order to thrive. Frontier travelers take home more than just another great travel experience. They learn a unique perspective that allows them to better interact with their peers. While traveling, members are “in it together” as they explore and learn about their surroundings. This enables them to feel part of something much greater than themselves: a feeling of camaraderie.

Along the way, Frontier travelers have the opportunity to work on specific skills needed for living independently. Travelers are required to participate in life skills such as laundry, packing, and maintaining a clean living space while in their hotel rooms. We feel it is most effective for travelers to teach one another the skills that they utilize the most. We find that learning from peers is even more impactful than learning from staff. With encouragement and support, the sky is the limit to each traveler's full potential.

OUR MISSION

Frontier Travel Camp's mission is to further the progress of appropriate development and aid in improving self-esteem, socialization, and independence through safe and exciting travel experiences. We believe that everyone, no matter your difficulties, should have the chance to make friends, see the world, and to live life.

Frontier takes the time to learn about every individual's social difficulties, then works with the traveler to begin the process of finding goals to grow and develop. Staff are constantly keeping a watchful eye on our travelers' interactions and feel it is imperative to communicate positives and negatives within these interactions, to help our travelers improve and grow.

Another primary goal is the improvement of our travelers' ability to take care of personal needs "independent of assistance." It is paramount that our travelers be treated equally and as adults. Therefore, assistance is tailored toward teaching and learning instead of pampering.

HEALTH & SAFETY

Frontier's number one priority is the health and safety of its travelers and staff. Therefore, we take multiple precautions to ensure that our tours are safe. We hire private coaches and experienced, insured drivers. We also reserve accommodations that are chosen based upon proximity to hospitals. We take a pace that is relaxing for our travelers, and we maintain an overly adequate staff throughout the summer. A registered nurse is also with us throughout the summer to take care of our basic medical needs. All of our staff are certified in CPR and First Aid. Staff will not make major medical decisions without the advice of a doctor and/or parental involvement.

Finally, Frontier makes every effort to ensure that our new applicants are appropriate for our tight-knit program. We steer away from severe psychiatric histories/diagnoses with any form of violent/sexual tendency. At the same time, we understand that many special needs individuals have had various difficulties in the past that they have overcome. We do our best to accept only the most appropriate travelers.

CORE VALUES

After many years of successful travel with our special needs populations, we think it crucial to share with everyone the basic values that we've found to be the most important in our daily lives while at camp and at home. We are committed to adhering to these core values:

1. Respect. Whether related to our special needs populations, or in our own individual lives, we have a responsibility to treat one another and ourselves with a high level of respect. We all have our own definitions of what respect means and many of us are able to express those feelings. For some of our clientele, this verbal expression and forthright understanding of this value is difficult to express. Therefore, we believe that we must set forth true and consistent example of respect every minute of every day. We believe that this positive modeling is the most effective means of teaching this core value.

2. Individualism. We believe in celebrating the traits that make us unique. One of our goals is to identify what makes you YOU and let everyone know how great you are for it. We guarantee that we'll treat everyone with the respect needed so that they feel comfortable enough to celebrate their own individuality and to be proud of who they are.

3. Empowerment. We believe that the most effective and powerful tool we can provide our travelers is a sense of empowerment. We want everyone to feel that they matter and that they can make decisions for themselves and participate in all processes related to them. This sense of empowerment is invaluable when moving through the life-cycle and as independence requirements grow.

4. Communication. It is imperative that all of us realize the importance of communication. We must be able to express our feelings, be heard, and have the ability to listen to others. For us, it is impossible to effectively succeed with all of the core values listed here without the ability and desire to communicate effectively. We facilitate communication during all facets of our trips and encourage the verbal expression of both positive and negative feelings in all situations. We want everyone to know deep down that they matter, and that they are respected individuals who are independent and able to succeed in every situation.

5. Healthy Living. Frontier Travel Camp is always looking to improve the health of its travelers. We provide healthy meal choices and are constantly discussing with our group the importance of being active, eating well, and making the right choices. We're very committed to setting a positive example and showing that regular physical activity and a healthy diet can lay the foundation for a happier, more productive, and overall improved existence.

JUNE 23 - JULY 6, 2024

$12,450

Tour includes: Coach airline ticket, hotel based on double occupancy, 3 meals per day, and all entertainment costs.

Moraine Lake, Alberta

In 2024, Frontier Travel Camp will return to one of our favorite destinations on any continent, the beautiful mountains of Alberta, Canada. On July 23rd, 2024, Frontier will fly to Edmonton, Alberta, to start our journey. Edmonton itself is a gem of a city in the summertime. Even though our time here will be short you will be surprised by how much you love this city.

Then, we are off to the mountains for the next week. No better place than the Columbia Icefields to get our feet wet in the snow of the Athabasca Glacier. We'll ride on a big wheeled glacier climbing bus for a tour of this magnificent location. And we'll spend the rest of our day in beautiful Jasper.

We will then head south to Banff National Park. Banff is home to Moraine Lake (pictured above) and famous Lake Louise. As some of the most picturesque lakes we've ever traveled to, you can't even think of missing this opportunity. We'll be able to take leisurely walks around the lakes. Some may even take the option of a canoe ride, but only if you stay seated. The water is just a wee bit cold. The town of Banff is also a wonderful place to hang our hats while we enjoy the great outdoors. We may even take a soak in one of the natural hot springs that this town is also famous for.

Finally, we will travel to Vancouver, British Columbia. Vancouver is one of the most beautiful cities in North America as it sits at the base of the North Shore Mountains and the shores of the English Bay. With many tourist spots like Stanley Park, Granville Island, Gastown, the UBC peninsula, and Capilano Park, we will have the best time in this northwestern city.

For those of you who will only join us for this summer tour, you'll fly home on July 6th. For the rest who will join us for the second half of the summer, we will head to Seattle, Washington, for some northwest fun and an Alaskan cruise.

SCOTT FINEMAN, MSW

Director/Owner

Scott has led tours for adults with special needs for 31 years. Scott opened Frontier Travel Camp in 1998, advancing his commitment by providing for a trusting and safe travel environment year after year. Scott completed his Master's Degree in Clinical Social Work at Fordham University in 1997 and has worked primarily with special needs populations ever since.

“We are miles ahead of the competition in providing an enriching and multi-cultural travel experience...”

STAFF

Our Staff ratio is 4:1 (one staff member for every 4 travelers). All of our staff are chosen using strict criteria, including level of education and experience related to the populations served. Our special educators, social workers, and nurses assist travelers with communicating needs and feelings, handling money, and dispensing medications (many travelers handle their own medication and money). Staff also facilitate socialization and independence by providing for a nurturing environment and being acutely aware of each individual's target needs in these areas. Frontier staff provide a supportive and safe environment empowering travelers to communicate with each other and to make more positive decisions on a daily basis without the fear of ridicule. The Frontier Travel Camp family encourages verbalization of feelings to be sure that everyone is content and satisfied. Often assisting with group decisions while on the road, travelers realize that their opinions count.

We feel that all staff should be people that our clientele can look up to as positive role models. Furthermore, we hope that our travelers will always feel that they can communicate their feelings and learn positive lessons from people outside of their home environment. We know that as surrogate parents, Frontier Staff can provide the same level of comfort and support to our clientele while on tour as they receive at home. We are miles ahead of the competition in providing an enriching and successful experience for everyone involved. In our first 23 years, Frontier has proven to itself and to its loyal participants that with good staff, great supervision, and a nurturing familial attitude we can consistently provide for a low stress, highly comfortable, and extremely fun and safe travel experience.

OUR MEALS

Frontier travelers are provided three meals per day. It is important to note that Frontier Travel Camp is strict about soda intake during mealtime. We have learned from years of experience that controlling hydration as much as possible throughout the day has a tremendous effect on our travelers' overall health. As a result, during most meals, soda will not be served. We also find it important to limit the intake of sugars. Of course, our travelers are adults and are on vacation, so we do allow desserts and other sweets, but we feel it is our responsibility to control the intake of “junk food” as much as possible.

HERE'S A TYPICAL DAY'S MEALS:

Breakfast: Breakfast is always served in the accommodation in which we are staying with few exceptions.

Lunch: Sandwiches, fruit, and other lunch options are purchased daily on tour limiting the requirement to directly handle perishables. Occasionally, we will make a picnic lunch, will shop for the day, and dispose of all unpackaged food directly after our meal.

Dinner: Served in restaurants either in our accommodation or in the city or town we are visiting. Travelers are offered healthy choices from menus and encouraged to limit fried foods and sodas. Desserts are not served daily to control the amount of sugar and fat intake on our lengthy tours.

FACTS AND FIGURES

All tour members are required to submit an application (new travelers) and a full medical report prior to departure. Frontier always does its research to be sure that travelers are appropriate for the program and that Frontier Travel Camp is the right program for the potential traveler. Our dedicated staff are available to make sure that this process is quick and easy.

OUR DEADLINES: The deadline for all applications for the 2023 summer is March 6th, 2024. Final payment is due no later than April 1st, 2023.

CAPACITY: Our capacity for all tours is 45 travelers at one time.
